

Coalfire CMMC Services

Defense Industrial Base (DIB) contractors handling Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) are required to demonstrate a strong commitment to cybersecurity and protecting sensitive information through formal certifications and annual affirmations. Picking an experienced partner with the expertise to help guide DIB organizations through the CMMC Level 2 certification process is critical, ensuring they are assessment-ready and fully prepared to meet federal compliance standards. Selecting the right CMMC partner helps streamline certification, mitigate security risks, and maintain eligibility for DoD contracts.

Why Coalfire?

Coalfire® and its Coalfire Federal group bring extensive FedRAMP, FISMA, DoD, CMMC, IL6, NIST, and other global framework experiences to guide you through a successful certification process.

CMMC Guidance and Preparation

CMMC is new to many DIB organizations handling CUI. Many organizations may lack expertise and experience, slowing efforts to achieve certification. Our experts will guide you through the stringent DoD requirements, develop key pieces of documentation (e.g., System Security Plan), help you build and deploy environments, accelerate the certification process, and reduce the time to be ready for your assessment.

CMMC Security Testing

Your CMMC environment should be resilient to attacks that target sensitive CUI information. Coalfire can perform offensive security testing to evaluate your security posture and resilience. Our cybersecurity experts will work with you to perform vulnerability scanning, red teaming, pen test, incident response planning, and other exercises to help ensure your environment performs to the strictest security standards.

CMMC Mock Assessment

Already prepared for your certification? Our certified assessors conduct mock assessments to evaluate your environment to ensure you are ready to begin your C3PAO certification. Identify gaps and deficiencies with a mock assessment before a certification assessment.
